FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE BOYS IN GRAY

Confederacy's Daughters Plan a Novel Encampment.

Tents to Be Pitched at Falls Church, Va.

President McKinley to Be Invited. General Miles One of the Speakers.

Arrangements have been completed for the grand encampment of the Daughters of the Confederacy at Falls Church, Va., on June 7. The idea was conceived by the Washington and Falls Church Chapters of the organization and was quickly taken up by the different branches of the society throughout the country, and it now promises to be an affair of more than local importance.

Communications have been received from over thirty chapters of the organization signifying their intention of sending delegates to the encampment and in some instances of attending in a body. The general committee of the Daughters of the Confederacy will shortly issue a call to the various branches notifying them of the proposed encampment and calling for their cooperation.

The object of the coming event is "The raising of funds for the care and comfort of those who were the gray and the cementing of ties broken by the struggle between the States." Invitations have already been extended to a number of Union societies to take part in the event and many have already accepted.

The place of holding the encampment is an ideal one in every respect. An immense lawn in the center of which is a grove of original oaks has been tendered to the society by the citizens of Falls Church. It is intended to make the affair an encampment in fact as well as in name. Over 500 tents of various sizes, and designs have been secured. An immense canvas amphitheatre will be used as headquarters and here all the business of the encampment will be transacted.

The smaller tents will be used as chapter headquarters and sleeping apartments. At night the whole place will be illuminated by camp fires and torches. It is the intention of the management to make the programme as romantic and unique as possible. Permission will be secured from the governor of the Virginia Confederate Soldiers' Home to have a large number of the veterans in attendance.

The Black Horse Troop of Fauquier county will attend in a body and Mosby's Guerrillas will also be present under the leadership of their commander, Col. John S. Mosby. A special invitation will be extended to the President to visit the encampment and deliver an address.

The speakers already secured are: General Miles, General Wheeler, the Rev. Father Stafford, the Rev. Dr. Leary, Senator Daniel and Senator Martin. Invitations will also be extended to men both of the North and South who were prominent in the struggle between the States.

An interesting feature of the occasion will be the celebrated Confederate band composed of over fifty musicians, all of whom are veterans of the civil war, and of whom is credited with having sounded the retreat of the Confederate army at Gettysburg. An effort will also be made to secure a band of the Marine Band.

The closing scene of the occasion will be a portrayal of the unity of the North and the South. Just what form this will assume has not yet been decided. As first planned the event was intended only to occupy one day, but so much enthusiasm has been received by the Washington chapters that it has been decided to extend the programme to three days. In this event many new features will be added to the programme. The railroad company has agreed to give Washington has assured the committee of their financial support and will give reduced rates to all visitors attending the encampment.

PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY FIRE.

Fire was discovered in Prince's photographic establishment, corner of Eleventh Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, last night at 9 o'clock by Sergeant Acton of the First Precinct, who started the flames originated in the storeroom of the photographer in the rear of the third floor and are thought to have been caused by the spontaneous combustion of chemicals.

The promptness of the fire department probably prevented a serious conflagration as the blaze was fierce for a time and the high wind carried sparks to the adjacent buildings. The department soon extinguished the fire.

The blaze destroyed almost all of the goods in the store, and the stationer who has a store on the first floor, the latter suffered a loss of about $250, caused by water. The roof was burned through and several hundred dollars' damage was done to the building. The entire loss is covered by insurance.

MR. SCOFIELD'S APPOINTMENT.

Grand Army People Asked That Mr. Thompson Be Selected.

When the position of Chief Clerk of the War Department was made vacant by the promotion of John Tweedle, A. N. Thompson was announced by his friends as a candidate for the place. As he was really performing the duties of chief clerk in the capacity of assistant chief clerk he no doubt, thought it would be a good plan to draw the salary. Accordingly, he said to have enlisted the good offices of the Grand Army men, and a delegation of five past commanders of the organization, who were called upon by the Secretary of War, who is stated to have expressed himself as favorable to the appointment of Mr. Thompson. The Secretary is reported as saying that he would like to have a conference with Mr. Thompson. After talking with the applicant for some time the nomination

WHY WOMEN HAVE WEAK LUNGS.

In life, as in journeys, it is a great deal easier to go down hill than up. Not only is woman naturally man's inferior in physical strength and vigor, but her environment and the unwritten but universally accepted laws governing her daily life are such as to keep her life and health in almost constant jeopardy.

Popular taste demands that she possess a neat, trim figure, and to meet this demand she must wear light apparel and resort to methods for compressing the lower chest walls that certainly do not contribute to her health or comfort.

"There is life in the air we breathe," and to get one's full share of life and strength, the lungs, the great purifying laboratory of the body, must have full scope for action. Any compression of the chest walls robs the lungs of a corresponding amount of space and interferes with their action.

Such compression also seriously affects the heart, which is the great engine that supplies power and action to the lungs. To insure health and supply the body with necessary oxygen the air must penetrate every nook and corner of the lungs, and when it fails to do so such parts are not reached waste away and die.

No single remedy will meet and combat all the symptoms in consumption and other diseases of the chest and lungs. This is the reason Dr. Slocum uses Four Preparations in his treatment—a soothing application for the nose and throat; a healing, quieting mixture for the cough and bronchial irritation; a powerful stimulant and tonic, and a nourishing, strengthening, invigorating food that puts on flesh and strength, hardens the muscles and restores the lungs to their normal health and vigor.

Dr. Slocum very generously places his wonderful System of Treatment within the reach of all sufferers. He will send FOUR FREE PACKAGES of his preparation upon request.

Simply write, giving name and full address to Dr. T. A. Slocum, Laboratories 96 and 98 West Street, New York, and please state that you read this in the Washington Times.

ment was authorized that the position had been tendered to Mr. Thompson, but he had declined it. Those who are familiar with the making calls or going to places of amusement or on shopping tours.

And yet the average woman doesn't get sufficient physical exercise. Her day is spent in her children or the requirements of her household keep her too much indoors. She doesn't get her share of oxygen and ozone—the two greatest necessities—with which out which she cannot have enough rest matter in her blood to keep the healthy.

TO TAKE THE PLACE OF TENTS.

Sample House for Soldiers at the War Department.

A good deal of attention has been attracted during the last two or three days by a queer little wooden house placed in the grounds of the War Department. It was sent by a Michigan manufacturer, who wanted the department to adopt it for use in Cuba instead of tents, which are not very rapidly in that island during the rainy season. The house weighs 1,400 pounds, costs $60, and furnishes a pleasant room for two officers. The tent cost about half as much.

ANNUAL POLICE SALE.

Lively Bidding for Packages Offered at the Auction.

A large crowd assembled at Ratcliffe's auction rooms, No. 920 Pennsylvania Avenue, this morning at 10 o'clock to attend the annual police sale. This sale includes all kinds of clothing, jewelry, household goods, bicycle sundries, books, guns, paints, and oils—everything, in fact, that has come into the possession of the Police Department during the last two years.

Many of the articles offered for sale were stolen in this or other cities, and were taken from the thieves when they were sent to jail. Some of these have been in the hands of the property clerk for less than one year, however, as goods are always kept on hand twelve months to await identification by their owners.

The articles are all placed in packages and numbered, and on a catalogue opposite the numbers is placed a summary of what the packages contain.

Some curious mistakes were made at the sale this morning. A lady laboring under the impression that she was purchasing one dozen spoons of cotton contained in package No. 1418-7 was presented with a trunk, package No. 1418-7. A number of like instances occurred, but were corrected good-naturedly. The excitement in the bidding was intense, especially among the fair sex. Very few of the articles offered would be left at the conclusion of the sale.

The proceeds of the sale will be deposited with the police relief fund, of which Chief Clerk Arthur Kemp, of the Police Department, is the custodian. This fund furnishes pensions for the retired officers and provides the members of the relief association with insurance in case of death.

BOARDING-HOUSE THIEVES.

Local Police Inaugurate a Campaign Against Them.

The activity of the boarding-house thieves in this city is at present attracting the attention of the Police Department. A number of complaints from the victims of this particular kind of larceny have been received from different sections of the city, but the police are of the opinion that all the work has been done by the same parties.

Last week a complaint was received from a boarding-house keeper that she had been swindled by a man who passed several worthless checks at her house. The man was found that the same man had operated extensively in the city and it is now believed that he is a member of the same gang of sneak thieves who is connected with them in some way.

There seems to be a systematic plan in operation to defraud landladies and their guests. The former are persuaded to cash worthless checks and the rooms of the latter are entered and their valuables taken while they are at work.

A plan of campaign has been decided upon by the police officials and with the aid of their brother officers in other cities they expect to make things very uncomfortable for the larcenous element. It is at least to cause the boarding-house keepers to exercise such vigilance that the thieves will not get an opportunity to exercise their criminal propensities.

SENTENCED FOR VAGRANCY.

Two Young Men Pay the Penalty of Prolonged Conduct.

John O'Brien and Luke Connors were today fined $10 or sentenced to serve thirty days in the workhouse by Judge Kimball on the charge of vagrancy. The evidence in the case showed that both the prisoners had comfortable homes and that Connors was possessed of considerable property. O'Brien served in the war with Spain and attends to his mother's business, who being a property holder in the District.

The officers who made the arrests stated that the young men were loitering on the corner of Fourteenth and V Streets almost nightly, and were a nuisance to pedestrians. After the raucous close, the officers stated, they were ordered to enter the different all-night lunch rooms and continue their boisterous conduct.

In passing sentence Judge Kimball said that a millionaire was liable for the vagrancy act if found frequently drunk and that, regardless of the fact that the two prisoners were possessed of means, he was compelled to find them guilty as charged.
